FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16. 1741.

To RALPH FREEMAN, Esq;

THE Two grand Ingredients in the Composition of a modern Patriot (if you will believe them) are Intallibility of Judgment, and a greater Compals of Self-denial, than those whom they oppose: These are the Springs and Principles upon which their whole System depends, and by which it is ruled governed. By ringing the Changes on these they in and keep together their deluded Followers, and making an Advantage of their Prejudices and their Passions, impose upon them whatever Doctrines they please. State Pharisees (like those in the Gospel) affecting a greater Degree of Light and Sanctity than their Followers, are continually pushing themselves into all the Places of Resort, and by piously inverting the Eyes and their Hands, blessing Heaven upon all Occasions that they are not like other Men. These Pretensions are not only the grand Groundwork of this, but the likewise of most other Impostures, and when they are out with a Design of deceiving others, if they are always affect to be thought wiser, they never fail to succeed upon all Occasions that they are holier than

There are Two common Ways by which our Politicians particularly take to support their Power, and their Interest in the People, the Direct, and the Indirect: One is by holding Adversaries Sense in Contempt, and his Principles in Abhorrence, and having in Place made themselves as beautiful as Angels of Light, they make their Opposites by way of Contrast as the Devil: The other is by a pretended Ignorance of dreaming of Dreams, and seeing Things; besides a happy Knack they have in garbling History, and stringing their Comparisons in a Parallel which you are to know who is Good and who Evil. The Barrister of Gray's-Inn in his Craftsman of the 10th hath given his Reader a short Specimen of this kind of Writing; a certain Correspondent of his writes himself Neflor, being very much mooned, as you must imagine, and having some how or other with a very curious Piece, as he calls it, what he do, but incloses it to our State Censor; who obligingly acknowledges the Favour in Return, and graciously bestows an Introduction upon it, as revealing its Wit as its Decency. He takes for his Text the Man's Advice to his Son, as he calls it; that is, Get your Son; honestly if you can, but however get Money; Jonathan Wild, Sarah Malcomb, James Hall, and Sharpers, and some People of a much higher Rank and Sharpers, and some People of a much higher Rank than them, are most decently and modestly together, as running the same Lengths in Iniquity, and influenced by the same Motive; viz. To get Money, in which the most obvious and most natural Inclination is to be made is, that Caleb D'Anvers is not to be made. As he is very cleanly in his Comparisons, so I am pleas'd in seeing him make a Conclusion, and heartily rejoice at his very Penitential Application, and the comfortable and Self Complacency he seems to enjoy from it. I do assure him by you, that altho' it is my Province to get Money by Dying Speeches and Sermons, I would however choose to get it honestly. I cannot be a greater Pleasure to me, than to have a true Sight of their Errors, and to remove the Iniquity of their Ways in due time. And with and pray, that all Men may with him being by this his instructive Lesson, and carefully avoiding the shameful and unfortunat Consequences of Money at any Rate.

I am, S I R,

Your Humble Servant,

J—S GUTH—Y, O. N.

AMERICA.

July 20. Yesterday Morning Capt. Eggleston arrived from the Bay of Honduras, who informs, that after they had taken Capt. Wife at the Bay of their Men on board his Sloop, together with the Captain, and ordered them to follow; but the Captain being out of Sight, the two Englishmen and the Spaniards and kill'd two of them, and kept the two to navigate the Vessel, and as they were upon them, and fearing she was a Spaniard, thought it proper for their own Safety to kill the other two Spaniards; but the Vessel proving to be an English one, they were sorry they had killed the last two Spaniards.

Boston, Aug. 3. We hear from Waltham in the County of Middlesex, that on the 17th of this Instant July, about five o' Clock in the Morning, died there M. John Harrington, in the 90th Year of his Age, and that his Consort also, Mrs. Hannah Harrington, died the same Day about seven o' Clock in the Afternoon, in the 77th Year of her Age. They liv'd together in the married State 60 Years, left eleven surviving Children, and Grand-children one hundred and sixty; which eleven Children and about fifty or sixty Grand-children followed the two Corpses to the Grave with great Decency and Solemnity.

Williamsburgh in Virginia, July 10. This Week arriv'd in York River, the Snow Seafower, Capt. Edwards, (the former Captain being dead) from Guinea, with 159 Slaves consign'd to Col. Braxton and Son. They met with a Spanish Snow, about 90 Tons, in Lat. 27: 17 N. Long. 67: 7 W. who hoisted a French Jack, and fired several Shot at them, and threaten'd, if they did not immediately strike, they would give them no Quarter: The Captain gave them the like Answer, and tho' he had but six Sailors and a Boy, and none of them would stand by him but the Boatwain, yet he was resolv'd to make the best Defence he could, and accordingly fir'd a Broadside into the Privateer (which burst one of his own Guns); he got up the Chest of small Arms, put Firelocks, Pistols and Cutlasses into the Hands of some of the Negroes, whom he made to understand him, who fought so desperately in their Way, shooting, slashing, and throwing Fire into the Privateer when they attempted twice to board him, that by their Bravery they sav'd the Ship and Cargo, and oblig'd the Privateer (who acknowledg'd he was fitted out from Hispanio's) to sheer off without doing any considerable Damage.

We hear from Maryland, that his Excellency Samuel Ogle, Esq; Governor of that Province, was married on the 6th Instant to Miss Anne Tasker, Daughter of the Hon. Benjamin Tasker, Esq; President of his Lordship's Hon. Council of that Province; a very agreeable, well-accomplish'd young Lady, with a good Fortune.

We have Advice from Kiquoran, that Sir Yelverton Peyton, Bart. in the Hector Man of War, return'd into that Road the 9th Instant from his Cruise, having met with nothing to annoy the Coast. As he was standing in near the Capes on the 29th of June, he met with six Sail of outward-bound Merchantmen, whom he convoyed 70 Leagues to Sea, on their Passage to Great Britain; and then return'd again. We hear he is filling his Water, with all possible Expedition, in order to proceed to Sea again; which will be completed in Six or seven Days.

We have Advice from Norfolk, that the Ship Caesar, Capt. Clarke, bound from York River to North Carolina, to take in a Loading there, was taken about five Days since, about 15 or 20 Leagues to the Southward of Cape Henry. The same Day they sail'd out of the Capes, towards the Evening they saw three Sail; and soon after a Boat with a great Number of Men was sent from one of them, who came up to their Ship, and demanded of them to strike to the King of Spain, or they should have no Quarter; which being refus'd, they fir'd upon the Ship briskly with small Arms, which was return'd from the Ship, and defended themselves from being boarded, till their Ammunition was near expended; and Night coming on, the Boat left them and return'd to their Ship. The next Morning early, two of the three Spanish Vessels came up with the Caesar, one a-head the other a-tern, and Capt. Clarke being unable to defend his Ship from them, quitted her and went ashore with all his People, and went to Norfolk, where they were when this Advice came away.

Our two Privateers sail'd on Tuesday last, and the Hector will sail on Sunday; there is great Reason to hope the Coast will be scour'd of these Pests of Trade; tho' some are of Opinion the Spaniards are so strong, and are grown so insolent upon their Success, that they will make a powerful Opposition.

New York, July 20. Our Trouble in relation to the Plot is not yet over, the Supreme Court and the Grand Jury are yet continued, and have much Trouble by finding new Discoveries of Persons concern'd in the said Plot, and by Petty Juries in the Trials of others. Last Week the Popish Priest was arraign'd upon his Indictment, and is to have his Trial this Week. On Saturday last five lusty Noll Negroes and one Spanish Indian were hing'd on account of the said Plot, and one pretended Negro Doctor was burnt.

New York, Aug. 3. Last Week John U—, the Romish Priest, was tried and convicted here at the Supreme Court, for being concern'd with the Negroes in the late hellish Plot.

Last Saturd y five Vessels arriv'd here from Jamaica, being those that carried the Volunteers from hence to Admiral Vernon at Jamaica, by whom we have Advice, that Admiral Vernon was seen at Sea this Day Fortnight, with about 100 Sail of Vessels, on his Expedition to St. Jago de Cuba.

Yesterday Capt. Tingle arriv'd here from Georgia, last from South Carolina, by whom we hear that Provisions are very scarce and dear in Georgia. That a Boston Privateer has carried a Spanish Privateer, full of Men, into Charles-town. That he narrowly escap'd being taken by a Spanish Privateer between the Capes of Delaware and Sandy-hook.

Twenty were cast for Transportation, and seven acquitted.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Tripoli, Sept. 3.

THE Treaties of Peace and Commerce between this Regency and the Courts of Naples and Stockholm are not only concluded but ratify'd: And the Swedish Consul has made a Present to the Bey from his Master of four Gold Watches, two of 'em adorn'd with Diamonds, several Pieces besides Porcellane, Woollen Stuffs of divers Sorts, Cannon, 1000 Bullets, a hundred Barrels of Powder, and a Chest full of Swords, Cutlasses, Pistols, and other Arms. A Ship of 30 Guns which the Bey had with the Grand Signior's Permission to trade in the Priviledg'd Ports of the Ottoman Dominions, which was laden with a great Quantity of Merchandise and Ammunition, happen'd to run upon some rocks on her Return hither, and was lost, with all her crew, of which the Jews were the principal Owners.

Thessalonica, Oct. 7. N. S. The Swedish Squadron, which was for some time cruising off this Port, is to every great Joy retir'd. The Great Duchess having sent the Marquis de Botta the other Day to her Court, to inform herself to him in these Terms: 'The last Letter from the Queen of Hungary has extremely touch'd as well as the Senate. It has pleas'd the Almighty to bless our Arms in the Beginning of the War which the Swedes have declar'd against this Empire, and I hope that Heaven will continue to prosper us. With this Trust I am actually taken up at present in considering the Methods for sending as soon as possible a Body of 30 or 40000 Men to the Assistance of her Majesty's Majesty. Of this you may inform your Court, as well as of our sincere Disposition to support the Queen by all other Measures that are possible.' The Marquis de Botta immediately dispatch'd an Express Thessalonica, Oct. 10. N. S. The Campaign in Finland has not yet seem to be at an End. Count Lewenhaupt has from his Camp at Uranib, between Abo and Fredrikshamn, that the Russians have made no Motion since the late Action; that the Parties he had sent out for Intelligence had not met a single Enemy, tho' they had advanced very near to Wybourg; that the Russians had retir'd from all the Country between that Place and Wilhelmsund; and that the Swedish Troops long to be re-engag'd on them, before they are sent into Winter-Quarters. In pursuance of the Resolutions of the last Diet, 10000 Men are sent into the Provinces to raise Recruits for augmenting the Troops with 12 or 15000 Men, and if they are to be augmented with 30000. Some new Men of War, Frigates, and other Ships, are also building; and last Week the King went and saw a fine new War launch'd, call'd the King Frederick, which will carry 80 Guns.

Copenhagen, Oct. 17. N. S. The Russian Minister has presented a Memorial to the Court to this Effect, viz. 'That 'tis well known that by the Third Article of the Treaty of Alliance and Guaranty between the late Emperor, the late Czarina, and his Danish Majesty, concluded at Copenhagen the 26 of May 1732, it was stipulated, That the Contracting Powers should oblige themselves to guarantee respectively and in the strongest Manner all their Kingdoms, Principalities, Lordships, Provinces, Territories, Rights, Privileges, &c. That moreover it was agreed by the Fifth Article of the said Treaty, That if either of the Contractors was prejudic'd by any one, and for any Reason whatsoever in their Rights, Privileges, and just Pretensions, or was attack'd in their Dominions, the contracting Powers in consequence of the mutual Guaranty should employ their good Offices with the Assailant, or, if they were refus'd, should immediately come to the Assistance of the Party attack'd: That consequently, the King of Sweden having unjustly declar'd War against the Empire of Russia, without any Reason given for it on the Part of that Empire, his Imperial Majesty of all the Russias requires his Danish Majesty to execute the Engagements he entered into by the said Treaty, without Delay.'

From the Austrians Camp at Gries, Oct. 7. N. S. On the 6th General Neuperg hearing that the Prussian Army was near, resolv'd to attack it, and march'd for that Purpose next Morning at Day-break, but he had scarce gone far, when he heard that the Prussian Army was return'd to their former Camp between Friedland and Gries, which two Days ago he caus'd to be view'd, but was told that it was so advantageously posted that there was no Possibility of attacking it, by reason 'twas cover'd with a Wood. Therefore the General came and encamp'd here.

Breslau, Oct. 13. The King's Army having taken in Oppelen, has continued its March towards Moravia; it met with a Detachment of several thousand Talmaches, Pandours, and other Troops pick'd out of the Hungarian Provinces, with whom the Prussians had a very sharp Skirmish, in which they took above a hundred of them Prisoners; after which our Army proceeded towards Moravia. The Baron de Brackel the Russian Minister, who went from Berlin to the Army, has 'tis said declar'd to the King, that the Great Duchess, notwithstanding the War she was oblig'd to carry on with Sweden, was resolv'd to use all her Efforts for sending a Supply of Troops to the Queen of Hungary.

Vienna, Oct. 11. N. S. The Trumpeter who came hither on the 7th from the Elector of Bavaria was accompanied by a Messenger from that Prince. Being both carry'd blindfold to the Count de Kevenhuller, they deliver'd him a Packet containing several Manifestoes and Circular Letters directed to the States of Lower Austria, as well as to the Tribunals and Colleges of this City, summoning them to pay him Homage and to take the Oath of Allegiance to him as to their lawful Prince and Archduke of Austria. There was also a Letter directed to the Queen, with the Titles only of Archduchess of Austria and Great Duchess of Tuscany, which for that Reason the Count return'd to the Trumpeter unopen'd; but he kept the other Papers, and detain'd both the Trumpeter and the Messenger; after which he sent his Secretary to Presbourg to know the Queen's Pleasure, whose Answer he receiv'd next Day importing, 'That she plac'd too great Confidence in the Zeal and Affection of her loyal Subjects; to imagine they would give Ear to Proposals so contrary to their Duty; that she hop'd therefore they would reject them in a proper Manner; that they would continue inviolably attach'd to their Sovereign, and do every thing in their Power to repulse the Enemies by whom she was persecuted.' The Count de Kevenhuller immediately dismiss'd both the Trumpeter and the Messenger, acquainting them at the same time, that the faithful States and Subjects of Lower Austria would continue inviolably attach'd to the Queen; that their Fidelity would animate them to bear the worst that their Enemies were preparing to do to them, and that they were resolv'd to sacrifice their Estates and their Lives too in Defence of their Sovereign.

There have been Publick Prayers here for three Days, to implore God's Blessing upon her Majesty's Arms, and they were begun with a solemn Procession, in which was carry'd that call'd the Miraculous Image of our Lady of Pest, the City of which Name we hear is afflicted with a Pestilence.

Ratisbon, Oct. 15. N. S. Some Passengers arriv'd here from Vienna by the way of Bohemia say, that in order to give more Room for the New Fortifications making in that City, all the Buildings that stood in the Way are pull'd down; among which are several fine Palaces and stately Houses, that cost very considerable Sums to erect. Prince Eugene's sumptuous Garden, which was one of the principal Ornaments of Vienna, and cost above six Millions of Florins to embellish, is also quite ruin'd. The Princess Victoria of Savoy (Heir to the late Prince Eugene) who is marry'd since to the Prince of Saxe-Hildburghausen, and to whom the Garden belong'd, has sent the Statues, the Menagery, and all the fine Furniture of the House to Hungary. In a Word, if Vienna should sustain any thing of a Siege, that City which the Magnificence of the Austrian Nobility had render'd one of the finest in all Germany, will hardly be known to be Vienna. Mean time, Schonbrun, Laxembourg, Neustad, and other Places where the Emperors used to spend the fine Seasons, are entirely abandon'd: And what is an additional Misfortune to the Queen of Hungary, the Turks begin to make some Motions in Servia, and towards the Confines of the Banate of Temeswar; for the Porte have renew'd their Pretensions to that Province, and they demand the Restitution of Temeswar as the Condition of the Continuance of the Peace.

Berlin, Oct. 17. N. S. On the 13th Prince Henry, Brother to his Majesty, made a Profession of his Faith, after having been instructed in the Fundamentals of the Protestant Religion by Dr. Eisner, who began the Ceremony at the Castle with a very pathetic Discourse from Proverbs xxiii. ver. 26. My Son, give me thy Heart. He concluded with a Prayer and Thanksgiving, and the whole pass'd with very great Solemnity in presence of the two Queens, the Prince, the Princesses, and the whole Court. Two Days ago Prince Henry also receiv'd the Sacrament at the Dome Church, to the great Satisfaction and Joy of the whole Assembly.

Francfort, Oct. 19. N. S. The Queen of Hungary's Minister has solemnly protest'd in her Name against the Resolution pass'd by the Electors of Cologne, Bavaria, Brandenburg, and the Palatinate, for waving the Suffrage for Bohemia at the ensuing Election of an Emperor; declaring that she reserves the said Suffrage to herself in the strongest Manner, together with the Dignity, and other Electoral Prerogatives attach'd to the Kingdom of Bohemia, and all thereon depending, without giving her Consent to any the least Suspension of the Use or Exercise thereof, or to any Cession thereof in favour of any one whatsoever; and she moreover claims the unalterable Preservation of all the Rights, Prerogatives, and Benefices founded upon the Golden Bull, the Constitutions of the Empire, and the Conventions and Obligations which give her a Title to the Kingdom of Bohemia.

To my Worthy Countrymen and Brother Freeholders.

Being inform'd, That several Persons are very industrious, by false and deceitful Insinuations, to lessen the Regard that you are pleas'd to have for my Conduct in Parliament, I think myself oblig'd in Vindication of my Character to assert, that in every Publick Emergency I have constantly acted from a disinterested and unbiass'd Principle, and steadily adher'd to that Side of the Question, which, upon a View of all Circumstances, appear'd to me the most conducive to the general Welfare of the Nation.

And as it has likewise been artfully suggested to my Prejudice, that I do not intend myself to represent you in Parliament, but design underhand and treacherously to transfer my Interest at the Time of the Election to some other Gentleman, I do hereby solemnly declare, that this Report is false and groundless, and that such a mean, ungenerous Project never once entered my Thoughts, nor was ever propos'd or hinted to me by any Person whatever.

And therefore I hope you will not suffer yourselves to be impos'd upon and inveigled by such fallacious and dissingenuous Artifices, but will favour me with your Votes and Interest at the ensuing Election, which I shall ever account the truest and greatest Honour, that can be conferr'd upon,
